Southern Wing of Western Front Blazes With New Action

RESISTANCE STIFFENED

Nazis Try to Halt Closing of American-French Pincer

PARIS, Nov. 27.—(INS)—Desperate German forces facing entrapment in the Vosges mountains struck a blow for their own liberation today, and the southern wing of the western front blazed with new action as the Nazis sought to escape between the last-closing teeth of an American-French pincer.

The American Seventh Army, pressing southward from the Strasbourg area along the west bank of the Rhine River, to meet the First French Army, moving northward from the Colmar area, encountered stubborn enemy resistance as did the French.

While trying to withdraw in the central Vosges area, the Germans tried to halt the closing of the American-French pincer on the Rhine's west bank. Hard fighting, as in progress north of Strasbourg and south of Mulhouse.

The French hurled back German counter-attacks west of Mulhouse.

Man Who Escaped Police Is Lodged in County Jail

William Hayes, colored, a well-known painter in this vicinity, was taken into custody by the police on Saturday afternoon after escaping from police custody Friday morning.

It is said that on Friday morning Hayes refused to show Officer Murphy his driver's card when the officer approached him on the highway near the A&P Super Market. Murphy was out to check on Hayes or allegedly driving recklessly long after street.

Hayes, still declining to show his cards, according to the report, threatened Murphy and took a saw from his machine as if to use it as a weapon. Murphy radioed police headquarters and Chief Jones and Officer Stackhouse went to the scene, and a battle ensued.

Hayes was put into the police car and taken to police headquarters, but in getting out of the car he dashed away and eluded the police.

Saturday the police went in search of Hayes and visited his home on Magnolia Road, but did not find him. Saturday afternoon they located him in the house of a friend near his own residence. Two officers entered by one door while two others entered the house through another door. Hayes was taken without any effort.

Hayes was given a hearing this morning before Justice of Peace Arthur Brady. Hayes admitted that the testimony given by Officer Murphy was true and he said that he could not explain his actions. "I just did not have any control over myself," he said.

Hayes was held in $1,500 bail on an assault and battery charge on each of three officers and was served with a summons charging reckless driving. He was taken to the Bucks County Jail at Doylestown.

BRITISH CLOSE IN ON FAENZA

Rome—British Eighth Army forces closed in on the key Italian communications hub of Faenza from the south and east today and established a bridgehead across the Marzeno river only a mile from their goal.

British and Polish columns drove the Germans out of the entire area west of Faenza. Military observers said the long and bitter battle for Faenza, more than half way on the route to Bologna from Rimini, appeared to be nearing a climax today as German Panzer divisions defending the junction were driven back after three days of heavy fighting.

Other British columns, meanwhile, fought their way toward the northwest, making substantial gains in the direction of Russi which is mid-way between Faenza and Ravenna, the British goal on the Adriatic coast.

JAPANESE ADMIT BOMBING OF TOKYO

New York—Japanese Imperial Headquarters, officially admitting that Tokyo has been bombed for the second time within four days, claimed today that about 40 American Superfortresses carried out the attack which lasted for about an hour.

In characteristic Nipponese fashion, imperial headquarters diminished the matter of damage as much as possible, asserting that "damage suffered by our side is slight, and none was caused to important installations."

The official admission of the new attack came an hour after Imperial Headquarters issued another communique claiming that long-range Japanese bombers had raided the American B-29 base at Saipan. There was no confirmation of a Japanese attack upon Saipan.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Members of the family, friends, police and Boy Scouts of Kulpville were busy for several hours Tuesday night, hunting James Cressman, aged 13, who disappeared from home.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cressman, Summerville, Pa., was found in Lansdale, about 10 o'clock, and was returned to his parents.

James was serving newspapers as usual Tuesday evening, and was seen about six o'clock on his regular route on Forty-foot road. He failed to come home for dinner, and his parents, after making inquiries among neighbors, finally notified the police.

Proper Raymond Nighan, of the State Police, who took charge of the search, was assisted by neighbors of the family, and the Kulpville Boy Scouts. Two members of the county detective staff were about to leave Norristown to assist, when Rev. Homer A. Weaver, a neighbor of the Cressman family, reported he had found the boy in Lansdale.

The New Britain Library and Literary Society held a successful fair in the library building, at New Britain. The women in charge of the various booths were kept busy all day, and over $200 was realized.

The items on the baked goods table found a ready sale and home made candy also sold readily.

Persons in charge of the lunch-room counter served hot dogs during the afternoon, and a meal was served in the evening.

The fancywork table proved to be popular, with hundreds of attractive gifts on sale. A grab-bag booth was well patronized, as was the book table, where used books, book markers, photos of local scenes, and numerous other items were on sale. The plant display was quite attractive, and a large number of large and small plants were sold.

Mrs. Norman T. White was chairman of the general committee for the fair.

Harold Weiss, of Sellersville, electrical worker, who is doing television and telephone work in the South Pacific, was driving a jeep in the jungles of an Admiralty Island the other day and he passed a man who looked like Rev. Edwin Andrews, of Sellersville.

He thought he was dreaming, backed up and sure enough it was Chaplain Andrews, also of the Seabees.

Weiss is a chief petty officer. His brother, Pvt. Ray Weiss, is in the Metz area with Patton's army, plugging through Germany.

Both played for the Sellersville Greenjackets grid team a few years ago.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Their First Victory

Washington, Nov. 25. IF THERE were any who doubted what influence would have the most weight with Mr. Roosevelt after his election and what the color of his 4th Administration would be, their doubts must have been dissipated last week, when the radical elements most articulate in his victory campaign won their first clear-cut victory.

IT WAS then most convincingly demonstrated that in any showdown the combined pressure of these elements cannot—or will not—be resisted by the President. Whatever slight concessions he may make to the conservative side, once the issue is drawn, the radicals win. There should be no surprise about that. Such has been the consistent record of the past three Administrations. They are literally studied with instances of the President's asking advice of conservative friends, like Mr. B. M. Baruch, starting in the conservative direction and then being swung around by left-wing advisers and labor pressure.

THERE was never a clearer example than afforded by the Surplus Property Board appointees announced a few days ago. That story is most revealing. It starts with the President asking Mr. Baruch to make recommendations for unwinding as from a wartime to a peacetime economy. After months of study, the Baruch-Hancock plan was completed. Practically everybody, including the President, commended it. A vital part of the plan for reconversion was in the prompt and effective disposal of surplus war products and plants. To work out this large and intricate business, at the request of Mr. Byrnes, the Messrs. Baruch and Hancock recommended Mr. Will Clayton, able, experienced, wealthy and patriotic. His sponsors thought him better qualified for this particular job than any other man in the United States. Approved by the President, he was appointed by Mr. Byrnes.

AFTER MONTHS of hard work, Mr. Clayton was appointed by Mr. Byrnes.

LT. R. J. HUNT GETS A WELL-EARNED REST

His Martin "Mariner" Was First To Raid "Jap" Territory

WIFE WAS A LOCALITE

LT. Robert J. Hunt, U. S. Navy, of Trenton, N. J., husband of Anne Hoffman Hunt, formerly of Bristol, arrived in Trenton on Saturday to eat a belated Thanksgiving dinner.

But according to the naval officer's wife who expected him earlier, "any day he gets home is Thanksgiving for us."

LT. Hunt is pilot of the first Martin "Mariner" ever to raid Japanese territory. He was delayed on the west coast en route to his Trenton home, but received an enthusiastic welcome from his wife and his little daughter Anne, the latter being only three months old when LT. Hunt left for duty in the South Pacific. Little Anne was kept up for the welcome with her "Hello, Daddy, I love you."

The navy man was a member of a navy patrol squadron which had the unusual record of 800 individual missions without a single cancellation. And the squadron, commanded by Commander R. W. Leeman, of New Hampshire, was known as "Leeman's Demons." A well-earned rest has been accorded the squadron members.

The Tarao airstrip on Maloelap Island in the Marshalls was attacked by Hunt's plane in January, this being the first time that Japanese territory had been struck, it is announced.

Said LT. Hunt, "The idea was to keep the 'Japs' awake. We'd go in at night on a hop like that and make four or five dummy runs before finally dropping our bombs on the run way."

Mrs. Hunt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hoffman, Pine street.

COURIER MANAGEMENT

To the People of this Community

When our men marched down the narrow English roads between the hedges and went aboard their boats on the night before D-day last June, they carried with them everything they needed to live and fight. Each man had on his person food and ammunition for twenty-four hours. Each unit was backed up by supplies and material to last through two weeks of fighting. In the second wave came other supplies, other guns, ammunition, medical units, food and field kitchens to carry the invasion still farther.

So far as military planners could determine in advance there wasn't a single missing item. This goes for everything from bulldozers to blood plasma. Our men not only had enough weapons, but the best weapons ever made.

You made and paid for the more than one million different kinds of equipment which is writing this to the Nazis. Magnificent as your support has been in Europe your job is just beginning. The enemy is still there. In Japan he awaits you, your relatives and friends. Your purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond in the Sixth War Loan will help to put the Japs where the other five war loans put the Nazis.

Veteran of Three Wars Dies in Naval Hospital

NEWPORTVILLE, Nov. 27.—Francis J. Boyd, a veteran of three wars, Spanish, World War I and World War II, died in the Naval Hospital, Philadelphia, Friday. He was the husband of Margaret T. Boyd (nee Fitzgerald).

The deceased, who resided at Newport Heights, Bensalem Township, had been hospitalized for three weeks. In his year of service in the navy during this war he was a chief warrant officer. He was mustered out during the past summer.

Relatives and friends; Fleet Reserve Branch, No. 1; and Rising Sun Post, 2819, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are invited to attend the rites tomorrow at seven a. m. from a funeral home at 5th street and Lindley avenue, Philadelphia. Requiem Mass will be said at 8:30 in the Church of the Incarnation, in that city. Burial will be in Arlington National Cemetery, Va.

His AAF B-26 Marauder bomber group in the Mediterranean theatre has been cited by the War Department for "outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy."

During aerial operations which preceded and supported the Allied break-through at Cassino, Marauders displayed extraordinary accuracy bombing numerous targets.

On May 12th, in direct support of the Fifth Army drive towards Rome, the group achieved spectacular results in an aerial attack on heavily defended enemy troop concentrations, including the famed 15th Panzer Grenadier Division. Despite numerous planes damaged and crew members wounded, the unescorted Marauders released almost 4,000 fragmentation bombs on the target. Irreplaceable casualties and destruction were piled on the already hard-pressed enemy, smashing key reserves and aiding the Allied drive northwards.

The group was cited for results which set it above and apart from other units, typical of the continuously superior precision bombing made possible through unstinted effort and superlative performance of duty by every member of the organization. Through their unsurpassed courage, skill in combat and steadfast devotion to duty, the personnel of the group have reflected great credit upon themselves and the Military Service of the United States.

NAMES ARE NOT EDIBLE

That it is possible to lead a husband to table, but impossible to make him eat stew, is a theoretical problem to which a nationally known food authority has furnished an answer. Miss Edith Barber, metropolitan food editor and member of the American Dietetic Association, submits how to get away with serving stew, incidentally making husbands eat it and like it.

"Just give the stew a fancy name and they'll love it," says Miss Barber. "Tell them you're serving 'boucien daube' or 'blanquette de veau' and they'll sing your praises. That's the way they often choose their meals in a restaurant. It works on other things than stew, also. If a man insists that he doesn't like pot roast, just call it 'beef a la mode' and he'll eat it."

That's what you think, Miss Barber. You may know food, but you don't know hungry men. In fact, if you serve a perfectly good meat dish and sprinkle it with your best French, you practically are asking a man to shy away from it as many persons shy away from freely tendered money. You would be a fool to try it even with so sure-fire a dish as roast beef. There isn't a man in the world who wouldn't swallow conceded meat loaf and strain at a coy phrase. "Boucien daube" and "blanquette de veau," indeed! You definitely have not got something there, Miss Barber.

As for knowing how men choose their meals in a restaurant, you evidently haven't a waitress'-eye view. When men see an unpronounceable dish on the menu, they rear like hedgehogs. They get suspicious as all get-out. They want no part of it until they are convinced it isn't loaded. The men are right. Ten times out of ten, the prettily named dish is just glorified left over.

But if the meat dish is nice and hot, and not masquerading under false pretenses, anything goes. As for stew, better call it stew.

THE BLACK MARKET

The latest black market to spring up is in cigarettes. There are reports of persons going to vending machines, only to find them empty, but individuals standing nearby come forward to offer cigarettes at 25 cents a package. And everyone knows of the gossip that one can purchase gasoline without coupons if he knows the right place and is willing to pay the right price.

It is all very well to blame the person who originates such illegal traffic. But it must be recognized that no black market can exist without patronage. It is a two-sided deal. The buyer is equally guilty in the moral sense. The extra money paid by the buyer is sufficient in itself to prove what kind of cheap business it is.

Distance of the moon from the earth varies as much as 30,000 miles. Perhaps there are times when the old boy would like to get even farther away.

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Jan. 17, 1884. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

A son of W. W. Woodruff, county superintendent, has been appointed to a professorship in Girard College.

The first report of the condition of the People's National Bank at Langhorne, shows its capital to be $50,000; its loans and discounts, $25,575; and its individual deposits, $14,412.

At a meeting of Hermione Lodge, No. 109, last Saturday evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: Past Chancellor, Harry Chambers; Chancellor, Commander, Maurice Watson; vice-chancellor, Joseph W. Vandergriht; prelate, William H. P. Hall; keeper of r.s., Edward N. Booz; master of finance, George E. Stout; master of exchequer, A. L. Garwood; master at arms, Charles Weik; outside guard, Edward B. Brown.

The statement of the condition of the Farmers National Bank of Bucks County shows it to be in a very prosperous condition. It has $80,000 surplus on a capital of $92,220. The individual deposits amount to upward of $270,000 and its undivided profits are nearly $9,000.

The telephone company proposes stretching a copper wire between Philadelphia and Bristol. The service between the two points has been imperfect and causes considerable annoyance.

One of Bristol's maskart hunters has captured nearly 100 of these animals thus far this season. The pelts are said to be bringing a good price in New York, some dealers giving as high as 50 cents each for nice skins.

The Hulmeville Horse Company has elected Jesse G. Webster president and John Johnson, secretary and treasurer.

A horse and sleigh now furnishes the means of communication across the Delaware between Burlington and Bristol.

A. L. Packer has been appointed coal inspector, with headquarters at Perth Amboy, by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, and will remove with his family from Bristol to that place next week.

At the annual meeting of the Bucks County Historical Society, held at Doylestown, on the 15th inst., the following officers were elected: President, W. W. H. Davis; secretary, Howard T. Widenmeyer; treasurer, Alfred Paschall.

The selection of Mr. John K. Wildman as president of the Bristol library, to succeed the Rev. Dr. Knox, was an eminently fitting testimonial of the esteem in which his services are held by those interested in the welfare of that institution. The library is indebted to Mr. Wildman, more perhaps than to any other one man for its inception, growth and present prosperity.

The Rev. Edward P. Shields will preach in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening, and is expected to make known to the congregation his acceptance of the call extended to him to become their pastor.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Clayton found it impossible, because of CIO opposition, to get through Congress the necessary legislation. He found not only his bill but himself the target for attack from the radicals and with no support from the President. In the end, Congress passed a bill under which Mr. Clayton declared the job could not be properly done and resigned. Among those who appreciate the importance of this surplus-product disposal there was deep disappointment not only over the character of the bill but over the loss of Mr. Clayton's services. There things stood up to a few weeks ago, when, at the request of Mr. Byrnes, Mr. Clayton suggested two men whom he thought equipped, and Secretary of Commerce Jones suggested a third man of recognized qualifications for the board of three which, under the new law, is to have the responsibility.

THERE was every expectation that the President would name these men and that at least the power would be in experienced hands. But these ideas did not last long. Almost immediately the radical groups began their attack. Mr. Jones and Mr. Clayton were assailed as greedy monopolists. The capable men they recommended were referred to as "henchmen" and "tools of the interests." Mr. Baruch was alleged to be "behind the whole game." The labor leaders, their hero, Mr. Henry Wallace, and various third-rate Senators joined in. A terrific din was made.

Did "Diamond Jim" Have Stomach or Ulcer Pains?

It is hardly likely that Diamond Jim Brady could have eaten so voraciously if he suffered after-eating pains. Sufferers who have to pay the penalty of stomach or ulcer pains, indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, blood and other conditions caused by excess acid should try Edga. Get a 25c box of Edga Tablets from your druggist. First dose must convince or return box to us and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. At United Cut Rate and drug stores everywhere.—(Advertisement.)

in press and over the air. The President was besought not to be deceived, to "stand by those who elected him." Reading and listening to this outpouring, one would have thought that Mr. Jones, Mr. Clayton and Mr. Baruch were sinister, selfish fellows, who plotted to promote brutal monopoly, give away Government property to greedy business men and deprive the "common man" of his rights.

IT WAS a silly, shrill and ridiculous campaign, but it got results. Under it, Mr. Roosevelt swung around. He ditched the three names laid before him by his chief assistant, War Mobilizer Byrnes, and has announced three new names for the board. Two of these are lame-duck politicians—Robert A. Harley, defeated Democratic candidate for Governor of Connecticut, and Senator Guy Gillette, defeated for re-election in Iowa. The third member is J. Edgar Hoover, Director of California, about whom little is known, but who has had some business experience. That is the story and it must be conceded, except to the radicals who swung the President around, it is not a pretty one, though not new.

THIS surplus-product disposal is admittedly of great importance. Instead of this job being done under an intelligent law by a single man whose qualifications are beyond question, it is now to be done under a weak law by three mediocre men who no one will claim were appointed on merit, who never would have been thought of if merit had been the sole consideration, who were never under serious consideration by the President until the attack of his radical friends upon the disinterested and able men whose advice he had sought, got too hot. There is very little doubt that this sorry performance is only the first of a series. It only serves to make clear the direction in which we are headed, and the groups which the election put on top. There isn't much can be done about it except present the facts.

DEMON TACKLE OF THE NAVY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groff, Wilson avenue, the latter part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groff and son and Mrs. Lydia Belmont, Wilson avenue, were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Herrmann, Wilson avenue.

The pro tem's office carries with it an extra $1000 a biennium and $500 for a special session in addition to the Senator's regular $3000 biennial salary. . . . The argument was advanced that Chapman was entitled to the post because of seniority. . . . In reality, however, the soft-spoken country doctor is outranked by Sen. George Woodward, Philadelphia Republican, who has served his district since 1919.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At Harrisburg

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Nov. 27.—(INS)—Reports circulating throughout Pennsylvania claiming an undercover battle has developed between the "oil interests" and powerful "railroad interests" over the selection of a president pro tempore of the Senate has little foundation according to officials of the upper chamber and at least two of the men figuring in the affair. . . . Sen. Charles H. Early, Somerset Republican, has held the post for the past two sessions and is slated to be shelved this session in order to allow some other colleague to have the honor. . . . Allegedly "fighting" for the post were Sen. E. LeRoy Chapman, Warren Republican, and Sen. Charles R. Mallory, Blair Republican. . . . Freshman Senator M. Harvey Taylor, GOP State Chairman, was mentioned as a "compromise" candidate.

Mallory, who lives in a railroad town, was incensed over the published report. . . . Taylor shrugged aside the mention of his name. . . . The situation is this: If Chapman, a resident of the oil producing area, wants it as a reward for 14 years service in the Senate, he will be elected and Mallory or anyone else will never oppose him. . . . However, Early may be re-elected if the post is "offered" again.

Senator Woodward has not sought the pro tem's chair in recent years and is content to head the relatively unimportant Federal Relations Committee. . . . Woodward publishes a pamphlet known as the Pennsylvania Legislator. . . . In the latest issue, he attributes the GOP defeat at the polls November 7 in a large measure to fear of "spoiling" straight party ballots. . . . He said the straight party ballot "was very good for the GOP in the good old days when there were no Democrats to annoy us." . . . He concluded by saying "now that the Democrats do have a nuisance value, the straight party ballot works against the GOP."

then seized Heinsbrunn and Gallingue, gaining a mile and a half. North of Basle and in the vicinity of Kembs, the Germans were active in holding their position on the west Rhine that is left open to them.

These advances, carrying the Third Army spearheads through the defenses of the Maginot Line, placed the Yanks within four miles of the Reich border and only some 14 miles outside the city of Saarbruecken.

While other Allied armies generally advanced in the wake of Sunday's 2,000 fighter-bomber sorties, Brig. Gen. Jacques LeClerc's French armored units moved southward to reach the town of Graffenstaden.

The Allied grip on Strasbourg was tightened however with the capture of at least a dozen enemy forts nearby the city.

CHESTER.—(INS)—The worst experience in the life of Radioman James E. Fairchild, 26, occurred in the icy waters off Anzio beach when he was passed twice during an hour and a quarter by a rescuing mine sweeper. "My first thought was that I could swim to shore," he declared, "but it turned out to be a long, cold way."

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Farmyard in Autumn . . . from an original lithograph by Hubert Davis

WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE FARMYARD

It's "time out" for growing things . . . the countryside seems to sleep in the silent cold.

But there's no "time out" for the farmer who's producing Sealtest Milk. War-made needs for milk are great, and he's doing his best to keep the flow of milk at the highest possible level at this low-point of the year. Working early and late, he's scientifically feeding and caring for his herd so that your supply of nature's most nearly perfect food can be a generous one.

And that is why, though cream is still very short . . . we can bring you enough fine, pure milk at its nourishing best . . . Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk.

This creamy-textured milk tastes rich and smooth in your coffee, on your cereal, and in cream soups and desserts . . . and there's extra health in every glassful.

As a matter of fact, you can't take any of the food value from the top of the bottle of Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk . . . for the cream has been mixed throughout. Every drop has an equal share of vitamins, minerals and proteins that are so essential to your well-being . . . and the fat globules have been broken up so that the milk digests faster and more easily.

Get a bottle of this "improved" milk for your family today . . . see how much they like it. Your Supplee milk man or woman has it for you, and so does your grocer.
